Congratulations to all with no reservations, and with monumental pride, are due the eleven members of the Board of Directors of the Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative of Florida under the leadership of President George Wedgworth and Vice-President Bob Apelgren on the successful financing of a $15,500,000 agro-industrial operation.

Congratulations to the farmers themselves for the financial stamina necessary to "deposit $750,000 in cash, with commitments to deposit $2,062,000 additional towards a total of $15,500,000 for construction of the Glades Sugar House and harvesting equipment."

Also, there's no mean accomplishment in planning 10,000 acres-plus of 1400 per acre land and the necessary $130 to $150 per acre gross-growing costs, for which these farmers are to be credited.

Every personal and business service retailer in the community should be grateful for this group. "What may I do to help?" for they've made your future income more secure and added to it.

An added $2,500,000 to the community's income for the next 50 weeks, plus $400,000 spent for materials and supplies, during construction, with a similar amount annually, would "do something" for ANY community in Florida.

IF YOU CAN'T GET BEHIND AND PUSH, with the use of a lot of "US AND WE, AND OUR" DON'T HINDER PROGRESS - JUST STAY OUT OF IT WAY.

Remember your "Rainin" and shake the hand of the first of the members of the Board you see - the other ten would appreciate it too.

Hoffaism In The Glades

This week a meeting was held concerning painting of school properties in the Glades, with Board Member Carpenter, Superintendent Watkins, representatives of the Board's maintenance department and a local painter who wished to bid on work in the Glades, or hire himself to the Board as a painter - the taxpayers lost, because the Union didn't agree, according to confirmed reports of the meeting.

'Watch Your Speed'

This Man Did Not

Trooper Monroe cruising a U.S. No. 27 south of South Bay came on a car which was exceeding the speed limit and gave chase, only to lose it on Road No. 80 after the right-angle turn at South Bay.

Trooper Jones, who had stationed himself at the Army to intercept the speeder when notified by radio, joined Monroe and the bowing lanes. The two were startled by the sudden appearance of the car coming out of the lanes parking area and heading towards Belle Glade.

The car made the corner at South Main and Avenue E thru a red light and disappeared westward. The local police had joined in the efforts to head the speeder in, and after having made several corners in the southwest section "on two wheels" the driver came back towards South Main, only to find evidence of patrolmen waiting.

In turning off S. W. Avenue E on to a side street, the driver ran into the car of colored Patrolman McCoy who was patrolling along slowly. By the time the speeder had backed away from the McCoy car Trooper Monroe drove up behind him.

So, when the arrest had been made the driver was identified as Paul J. Keith Andrews, 33 of Ft. Lauderdale, white.

It was found that the car Andrews was driving was stolen.

He is charged with auto theft, reckless driving, causing an accident, resisting arrest, and a few other items of interest to the Judge who will sentence him.

Weatherman Dunn Plans

Hourly Broadcasts for Lake

Chief Forecaster Dunn, of Weather Bureau's Herdman for Tropical Storms - he follows them from birth until they've puffed themselves out - will lead the Glades Tuesday and meet with American Red Cross Disaster Committee at THE HERALD office.

"We are more than anxious to provide the service that each general area of the state needs," Mr. Dunn told the group, "and believe that an advisory, published hourly following hoisting of hurricane warnings in the Lake Okechobee area, is dealing particularly with anticipated conditions in that area, will give more assurance to Glades folks." When asked of the application for such an arrangement, Mr. Dunn committed himself to that plan.

"There was not time during the presence of Donna near, or in, the State, when we could not point her exact location says Mr. Dunn, "and with stations at Key West, Miami, Tampa, Daytona Beach and Pensacola, there's no time when we do not have the entire state under 'eye'."

It was agreed that storm location in the Lake Okechobee broadcasts would be on a definite point about the lake, such as Belle Glade, Clewiston, etc.

There is a called meeting for the Committee on August 2nd, Wednesday afternoon, at 2 o'clock at the City Hall.

Men 62 May Get Social Security

The age at which men can apply for social security payments has been changed to 62, according to R. C. Gehlken, Jr., manager of the West Palm Beach Social Security Office.

Until now, men had to be at least 65 before they could make application for payment unless they were disabled. For several years women have been able to claim their social security payments at a reduced amount when they were 62. Men now have the same opportunity.

HERALD CLASSIFIED BRINGS RESULTS

Uncle Dan From Democrat River

Dear Mister Editor:

I see by the papers where the finance in his department is all out of whack. He is advising that we get to like the rates another notch or two, maybe three. We were getting that thing from ever Postmaster General, Democrat and Republican, for 40 year and the finances get worse and worse and the rates go higher and higher. About two more Postmaster Generals and it'll be cheaper to go see a feller than write him a letter. I don't think finances is the only thing out of whack in this department. For instance, out here on the rural route I can mail a parcel post package weighing 70 pounds, making the mail man haul it into town and get it off for me. But if I haul it into town myself, they won't take it at the window they won't take but 40 pound of parcel post. Don't ask me why. It's the post office Department that's crazy, not me.

I ain't saying they ain't some excuse for it. Sometimes they're technical reasons for the excuse. I don't meet the eye. A feller has to figure all the angles afore he can pass sound judgment on someone. I recollect once when a traveling salesman stopped at ole Pa Sedgewick's house and ask him how fur it was to town. Pa allowed as how it was 4 mile there and 6 mile back. When the salesman ask him how come it was more one way than the

NORTH RUES BULL RUN: McCLINTON TAKES OVER
 By Lon K. Savage

Who was to blame? North- erners asked themselves 100 years ago this week. And as they did, Southerners rejoiced and praised Almighty.

It took several days for both sides to realize how great the Southern victory meant. The Bull Run, how disastrous had been the Union defeat.

At Washington, the picture became clear on the Monday after the battle as lines of bed-ridden unshaven soldiers trudged across Long Bridge from Virginia in the rain, having lost their battle, their equipment and their interest in the war. The residents saw these men, once the heroes of the Union, begging on the street corners, lying in the gutters. A Confed- erate force of any size could take Washington practically without resistance, they thought.

Congressmen railed, ranted and apologized. Many of them had driven out to watch the battle and had taken flight like the soldiers in the mad stampede for Washington. Winfield Scott, the army commander, lost his temper while discussing the rout with Lincoln: "I have fought this battle, sir, against my judgment . . . I deserve removal because I did not attempt to Richmond" had helped to bring on the battle, now cry that Lincoln suggested an armistice.

And old Robert Patterson, whose army of Pennsylvania was supposed to have kept General Johnston from joining Beauregard at Manassas, lost temper, received more blame

In a recent column I expressed my feeling regarding the irresponsible action of labor unions in delaying America's missile program through strikes and walkouts.

The extent of this national scandal is reviewed in detail in the August issue of Reader's Digest. The article entitled "The Scandal of Our Missile Program" was written by Kenneth G. Gilmore, a reporter who personally covered the McClellan subcommittee hearings and then traveled 7,000 miles and talked with industrialists, technicians, labor leaders, government officials and workers in an effort to estimate the damage done.

His findings together with the information brought out at the McClellan hearings is downright sickening and as Gilmore aptly puts it, "One of the sorriest chapters of self-serving in American history."

In the past five years our ballistic-missile bases and test sites have been beset by 330 strikes and walkouts with the resultant loss of 163,000 priceless man-days. Wildcat strikes, work stoppages, slowdowns, featherbedding and deliberate policies of low productivity on the part of some unions and workers have set our missile program back many months.

Graft, greed and extortion in connection with the program has cost the American tax payer millions and millions of dollars in addition to the terrible threat to our national life and freedom.

What excuse do the unions, workers, and management give for their irresponsible actions in the face of our national emergency? Here are some of them as gathered by Gilmore.

"If you folks in town has got a problem, mister," Editor mail 'em to me parcel post and I'll have the feller put 'em on the agenda for the next meeting. But he shore they don't weigh more'n 40 pound.

Yours truly,
 Uncle Dan

than anyone and retired indignantly.

At Richmond, President Jefferson Davis, who had left to the battlefield, returned with glowing reports of the victory and the people broke into wild rejoicing. On the following Sunday, special prayers were offered in the churches.

But soon after the battle, the first ambulance train arrived at Richmond and the people, learning that even victory can be tragic, began a four-day job of caring for the wounded.

McClellan Is Called

Despite Bull Run and all its effects, the war must go on and both sides turned to that immediately. Lincoln took his first important step immediately after the battle by calling in young George Brinton McClellan, the hero who had cleared West Virginia of rebels, and making him commander of the Division of the Potomac. And five days after the rout, "Little Mac" arrived in the nation's capital and began reorganizing the demoralized army. The next day he was boasting in a letter to his wife: "I find myself in a new and strange position here, President, cabinet, Gen Scott and all deferring to me . . . I seem to have become the power of the land."

At Richmond, too, there was an important change. Robert E. Lee, the man who was to lead the bulk of the confederate fighting, was given his first field duty for the Confederacy — to co-ordinate the fighting in western Virginia. He set out on July 28 by train and the next day mounted a horse and rode off from Staunton in the rain. It was an omen, for the battle would continue until it turned Lee's campaign into a morass.

Grassroot Opinions

Actually there is only a slight difference between keeping your chin up and sticking your neck out, but it's worth knowing.

DALLAS, TEX., NEWS: "Freedom of choice should apply to labor unions the same as to anything else. If a man is FORCED to join a union in order to get a job, then allow deduction of union dues from his pay envelope in order to keep his job—THAT ISN'T AMERICANISM!"

SHELBY, MONT., PROMOTER: "An old and very wise Frenchman remarked after the collapse of his country in World War II: 'My country fell because we had come to consider France as a cow to be milked rather than a watchdog to be fed.' This was after France had been burdened with all manner of social subsidies and benefits."

PORT HURON, MICH., TIMES HERALD: "There are those who apparently feel that the way to further develop our free enterprise economy—the most successful economic system in the history of the world—is by abridging it through laws, breaking up its most successful components and taxing it of the lifeblood it must have to keep building anew."

CARLSBAD, N. M., CURRENT-ARGUS: "A time-tested truism in the psychology of advertising which says, 'Repeat a statement often enough and it will become a part of the thinking process of the masses.'"

Summer Science Program Proves Highly Interesting To 56 Students

A total of 56 students enrolled from Belle Glade, South Bay and Canal Point took part in the Science program under the instruction of Riley Foster as part of the Summer Enrichment and Educational Program sponsored by the PBC School of Instruction for this area. The successful program was held in the Belle Glade High and Elementary schools. Classes for the 7-9-11th grades were conducted on Monday, Wednesday and Friday and for the 5th and 6th grades on Tuesday and Thursday.

The students have had an opportunity to study the part of science they were most interested in. A number of them studied the earth's science, how it was formed, minerals and other elements of the earth. Some are making a collection of minerals.

More students were interested in chemistry than any other part of science. The students have studied the basic elements and their properties. More work was done with carbon, hydrogen, oxygen, phosphorus, potassium, iron, sulphur, calcium, iron and magnesium. Each student took one element and found out all they could about that element and reported to the class. They learned how to produce oxygen, hydrogen, nitrogen carbon dioxide and many compounds and other gases.

Heat and the various ways of producing it, was also studied. Chemical action produced heat was studied more than any other type. Some of the pupils were interested in different types of life in lakes and canals around Belle Glade, some have studied about insects and others snakes. Two of the older boys have a collection of snakes, frogs, turtles and other biological specimens.

Mr. Foster also took the students on numerous field trips to collect specimens for the lab. "They have also been to 10 films on science furnished by the Southern Bell Telephone Co. have been used."

Many students have expressed a desire to continue the study of science."

The classes will close Friday, July 28, with a winner roast and swimming party.

Singing Has Vital Role In Religious Faith

Bill McVey, Editor of The Christian Herald Singer

I think I can explain that "feeling" of our visitors to Bermuda. When it occurs, there is no mistaking it.

I've sung hymns with skeptical teenagers who've started off thinking that this is just about as "square" as you can get. But something happens. When it does, you no longer hear yourself. All you know is that seventeen youngsters sound like a hundred voices.

Watch thousands entering a stadium, or a few hundred gathered in a church for a hymn singing. At the beginning of the program you see them as individuals wrapped up in their own lives, their own problems.

Many have come just to listen, to be in the audience, but the moment comes when they can't be passive. Everyone seems to be singing and suddenly those who have come to listen are singing too.

I've walked down the aisle, urging people to sing. I've stood next to a man who was shouting for the sake of the crowd, a man, but there was a melody in his heart and he was singing with spirit.

The man, the choir girls on the bus, the seventeen teenagers, the crowd—all were caught up in a great experience. This is what my friend who visited Bermuda tried to explain.

Singing hymns creates an atmosphere of brotherhood—a feeling of unity. A divine bond blends the individual voices together as one voice. As we sing a hymn we may forget our problems, our worries, even our fears, but more important, we find new strength through each hymn we sing, strength to face the adversities of life.

Great experiences happen to most of us, but you can turn any Sunday morning, any family gathering, any social get-together into a great experience, really singing those hymns.

Perhaps a revival of hymn singing will re-echo around the world and serve as notice behind the iron curtain of our greatest strength—our Christian unity and brotherhood—reaffirming our determination that all men may be as free as we are to sing the hymns they choose to sing.

Samuel said to Saul, Thou hast done foolishly; thou hast not kept the commandment of the Lord thy God. (1 Samuel 13:13)

Samuel was God's man. He knew God's marching orders. If they did not come, he did not move, but stood steadfast in holy reverence before God.

Samuel was displeased and angry with Saul for his disobedience to God. His twice-told assertion, "Thou hast not kept the commandment of the Lord," was a serious warning to Saul for his disobedience. Samuel withstood Saul with courage and boldness, directing his words straight as the arrow flies.

Those words took hold of Saul, and he trembled with conviction. In days to come, Saul remembered this holy man of God, especially his unselfishness and justice.

What sublime beauty we find in the life of Samuel! What an inspiration is the memory of his faith! What encouragement knowledge of his faithfulness to God gives us in hours of temptation!

PRAYER: Holy Father, God of all generations and all creatures, may we, too, be obedient to the heavenly vision. With assurance of Thy promise, May we stand boldly and remain true to Thee. In Jesus' name. Amen.

Men of God walk humbly before Him in obedient trust.

20 B. G. Delegates Will Attend 3-Day Bible Conference

Final arrangements have been made for 20 delegates from the Belle Glade congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses to attend the day Bible conference at Pompano Beach, July 28-30, announced Mr. Joseph Dixon, assistant presiding minister.

The regular semi-annual circuit assembly for Florida Circuit No. 6 will draw an estimated 1500 delegates from 19 congregations in Southeast Florida. "We will see many new faces in Pompano due to a subdivision of the circuit, necessitated by the fast expansion of the Witnesses. Last year 69 additional circuits were formed to care for the 48,000 new ministers."

"In 181 lands the Witnesses have accepted the responsibility to preach God's kingdom by Jesus Christ. They believe only 'the good news of the kingdom' (Matthew 24:14) brings peace and joy to the world. The Pompano assembly will unify us for even better teaching," he concluded.

The convention theme, "Walk in the name of Jehovah Forever," will be stressed by the speakers, Dixon explained. The principle address of the convention will be delivered Sunday at 3 p. m. when Dr. J. Thomas, district supervisor for the Southeastern United States, will speak on the subject, "The 20th Century in Bible Prophecy" to which the public is invited to attend.

Dr. Raymond E. Kaufman, Assistant County Health Officer, will be the speaker. Dr. Kaufman said 42 of those were new cases and 16 were old cases which had reactivated. A total of 50 new cases have been reported but 8 either did not require hospitalization or are under the care of their private physicians.

A review of the 544 children with positive reactions to the tuberculin test found during the years of tuberculin testing in the schools, revealed 3 new primary cases and 15 children converted from negative to positive tuberculin reactions, Dr. Kaufman added.

Drug-Resistant TB Is Worrying Doctors

Fifty-eight Palm Beach County people have been admitted to TB Hospitals since January 1, Dr. Raymond E. Kaufman, Assistant County Health Officer, told the Board of the Palm Beach County Tuberculosis Health Association at its meeting Thursday at the Association, 615 Iris Street, West Palm Beach.

Dr. Kaufman said 42 of those were new cases and 16 were old cases which had reactivated. A total of 50 new cases have been reported but 8 either did not require hospitalization or are under the care of their private physicians.

A review of the 544 children with positive reactions to the tuberculin test found during the years of tuberculin testing in the schools, revealed 3 new primary cases and 15 children converted from negative to positive tuberculin reactions, Dr. Kaufman added.

He said, "We have effective drugs now, but drug-resistant strains of the TB germ are becoming more prevalent every day and the drug-resistant strain is worse than the germ we are fighting today."

Mrs. Corinne Greene, Director of Social Service at the TB Hospital in Lantana, reported the present hospital census as 448 the highest in several years. There have been 35 TB patients admitted from southeast Florida since January 1 and although there have been many discharges, the hospital remains full almost to capacity.

There is a need for volunteers who can sew or repair or alter patients' clothing. Other needs cited were for chairs for the Prayer Room and 1960-61 "National Geographic" magazines.

Are You Wondering...

Like so many other people, whether you should buy new furniture, or have your old upholstered.

If so, please read this ad!

The first consideration should be, do you like this particular piece of furniture, the style and comfort qualities.

The second thing to consider, will your furniture be as good or better than the original. The answer, very simple, the fabric, more than any other one thing determines the value of your furniture. Manufacturer's fabric is usually much cheaper than you would use to upholster your furniture.

The third consideration is the assortment of fabrics that are available to you. We have hundreds of fabrics and vinyls, all prices, colors, patterns, finishes and quality. Your upholstered piece can be original.

The fourth consideration is the cost. This varies with every piece of furniture. It is determined by the style and complexity of each piece, plus the cost of material used. The total upholstered cost in relation to the original cost also varies. If you have good furniture, the cost will be approximately one-half the original cost.

If you are still wondering, then call us today we will be glad to give you a free estimate, and help you in any way we can to make a decision.

SEE FLORIDA THIS SUMMER

Tower Is Big Attraction

Rising to the center of beautiful Mountain Lake Sanctuary, the Singing Tower at Lake Wales sends the music of carillon bells over the rolling hills of central Florida. The Singing Tower is a marble memorial to the noted journalist, Edward W. Bok, who is buried at the foot of this 225-foot tower.

More than 15 million visitors from all parts of Florida and the nation have journeyed to Central Florida to see "America's La Jolla" - also known as Bok Tower - since it was dedicated in 1929 as a gift to the American people from Edward W. Bok.

The millions who have wandered among the quiet beauty of Mountain Lake Sanctuary and thrilled to the clear tones emanating from the Tower bells stand as living proof of the truth of Bok's conviction that, if he could find a place whose sole purpose is "to preach the gospel of beauty," the American people would find it, even if its only advertisement was by word of mouth.

Towering magnificently on top of Iron Mountain, the highest point in peninsular Florida, three miles from Lake Wales in scenic Central Florida, the 250-foot carillon tower is constructed of pink and gray Georgia marble and Florida coquina stone to blend with the blue of the sky. Beneath it rests a serene Reflection Pool where swans and wood ducks lazily pass the day away.

Bok Tower is another reason Floridians are being urged by the Governor's Tourism Steering Committee and the Florida Development Commission to see their state this summer.

Surrounding the world-famous tower are 65 acres of moss-draped oaks, towering Sabal palms, gigantic magnolias, and the innumerable azaleas and ferns. The Singing Tower was modeled after the bell towers at La Jolla, Belgium, and its bells were cast in England. The bells vary in weight from 11 pounds to 11 tons to provide for the wide range and clearness of tone.

Also in the vicinity of Lake Wales are Spook Hill, Chimpasden, and the Great Masterpiece, an inspirational mosaic of Leonardo da Vinci's Last Supper, Spook Hill, a free attraction for all, a believe-it-or-not phenomenon where cars are said to roll uphill.

To the north of Lake Wales is another particularly famous attraction, Silver Springs, located six miles east of Ocala. Here, swimmers refresh in the crystal clear water while other visitors, traveling in glass bottom boats, peer deep into the springs to view an infinite variety of sea turtles and other aquatic life.

Many interesting attractions cluster around the springs. These attractions include the Allen's fascinating Reptile Institute, the historic Carriage Cavalcade, the Prince of Peace Memorial, and Tommy Bartlett's well-known Deer Farm, where deer eat from the hands of visitors.

The area surrounding Ocala deserves renown for several reasons. Prize cattle and thoroughbred race horses are raised in the vicinity where the wilderness between Ocala and Palatka was made famous by Marjorie Kinman Rawlings in "The Yearling" and other novels. Stretching southwestward from Ocala, innumerable sparkling lakes, more than 1,400 in Lake County alone, lead the landscape and invite the outdoorsman to fishing. Black bass abound in these waters.

To the east of Lake County, Orlando, Sandara Springs and Lake Apopka, second largest freshwater lake in Florida, highlight the countryside. Between Orlando and Winter Park is Mount Botanical Gardens.

Sprays, Aerosols Are Recommended For Insect Pests

Gladesville, Fla.—Mosquitoes and houseflies, two insects common in Florida homes, seldom become a major problem if adequate efforts are made to control them in their breeding areas, according to a University of Florida entomologist.
Dr. L. C. Kullert, with the Agricultural Experiment Station, recommends applying a residual spray containing two percent dieldrin to walls of porches, entrance shelters, screens and other places where the insects rest when mosquitoes and flies are a constant problem.
A paint brush is recommended for applying the insecticide to screens. Surfaces exposed to weather should be treated every two or three weeks, while treatment every two or three months is sufficient for protected areas.

The entomologist says it is frequently desirable to eliminate mosquitoes and flies from a room and this can best be done with a space spray such as an aerosol bomb.
The bomb should contain 2 percent pyrethrins and thionates. When using such an aerosol, treat behind pictures and curtains, under chairs and other furniture and in closets. After spraying, close the room for 15 to 20 minutes. Remove birds and fish before applying aerosols.

Is Enticing Fishermen A "Paying" Industry?

A detail breakdown of expenditures of fishermen would not be appropriate here but a few selected facts would be interesting. For instance:
1. During one recent year 68, 657 anglers fished from one bridge across the Indian River. They spent $15,328.07 dollars by our estimates.
2. On another bridge in the same area 125,294 people fished in one year and spent $11,728.98 dollars.
3. In Biscayne Bay a total of 538,021 fishermen spent 2,913, 592 dollars.
4. On one good day 1,000 fishermen fished from one bridge in Ft. Lauderdale. These statistics which could be continued indefinitely point to the fact that sports fishing is one of Florida's greatest resources. Certainly a financial Goliath such as this must be listened to with respect.

FCD Awards

spillway at Orlona, ten miles downstream from Lake Okechobee, will be modified and a new spillway will be constructed at Moore Haven on the Lake. No improvements or changes will be made to the existing locks at Orlona and Moore Haven.

The total project will be discussed by the FCD Board with citizens at a public meeting today at LaBelle.

Benefits from the Caloosahatchee project will include a reduction of nearly 90 per cent in flood damages with a resultant saving of approximately a million dollars a year in the big river basin. Secondly, the FCD estimates, the project should reduce drought damages in the area by more than $200,000 per year.

In addition, the new flood control works should make possible higher type use of land — for example, the planting of improved pasture or crops on land that is now frequently flooded. This benefit should amount to more than $500,000 per year. Thus, Mr. Horner explained, the total annual benefits from the Caloosahatchee River project should approach $2 million.

Residents of the Ft. Myers area will be assured of increased domestic water supply since the spillway and lock near Olga will maintain a head of fresh water within 10 miles of the city.

The initial eight miles of construction will be completed by early 1963, the FCD estimates, and FCD representatives are busy acquiring rights of way along the River from Olga Bridge to the mouth of Lake Okechobee. Construction of additional sections of the project will be started as soon as the rights of way along the River are acquired and funds are made available by State and Federal government.

When the Caloosahatchee project is finished, it will provide flood control benefits to areas even beyond the River basin.

FCD officials point out that when the improved river is not utilized to full capacity in draining the Caloosahatchee Basin, it will serve as a more dependable outlet for discharge of excess waters from Lake Okechobee. This will be an important factor in enabling the Army Corps of Engineers to regulate the Lake more safely and to maintain a higher level of water storage in the Lake. The FCD said greater water storage capacity in the Lake will mean better flood control and also more water for irrigation in both the Caloosahatchee Basin and the big agricultural areas of Palm Beach County south of the Lake.

Florida Has All 15 Of List of "Rare Earths"

By Joseph Weil
Dean of the College of Engineering and director of the Engineering and Industry Experiment Station, University of Florida

Europium, Promethium, Cerium, Erbium — these familiar-sounding names conjure up shadows of the Gods of Ancient Civilization, but in modern dress they cast long shining beams into Man's Future in the Nuclear Age. With others in their family they form the wonderful chemical clan of 15 "elements known as the rare earths."

The rare earths are metals, not earths — and they are far from "rare."

They were created billions of years ago, back to the very formation of the Earth itself, conceived in the raging inferno of a new-born planet. Today these remarkable metals, all 15 of which are found in Florida, are paving new frontiers in science and in industry. They are found in many minerals, but the only significant ore sources are massive monazite deposits and the monazite sands. For many years, India was the principal center for monazite sand mining, but in recent years the main production sources are Brazil, Idaho, and Florida.

Florida is indeed rich in minerals. In addition to being a promising source for the rare earths, she already is making available raw products for producing the more familiar "wonder" or "Cinderella" metals, today about 40 per cent of specifically titanium, zirconium, hafnium, uranium and thorium. The development of the black sands mining industry in recent years has helped boost Florida's mineral production from $15 million in 1940 to more than $159,400,000 in 1959 — an increase of nearly 1,000 per cent.

Although the bulk of this production comes from Florida's old stand-bys — phosphate rock (40 per cent of the 1959 total), fuller's earth, Portland cement, masonry cement, crushed limestone, clay, sand, gravel etc. — the future potential of Florida's unique combination of these with the "wonder" and rare earth metals staggers the imagination.

In 1888 the discovery of river pebbles on the Peace River near Arcadia and near the phosphate plant near Dunnellon sparked the beginning of the phosphate mining industry. Land pebbles were found the following year, and in five years Florida's production had passed that of South Carolina, making Florida the largest producing state in the union — a position which has never been challenged since that time.

There are 36,103 miles of paved highways and streets in Florida as compared with 32,992 miles of unpaved roads, says the State Chamber of Commerce.
